

Research assistant professor (post-doc) in Department of Invertebrate Zoology and Hydrobiology, UL

Requirements:

The candidate for the position should:

- hold a doctoral degree in biological sciences in the discipline of biology or ecology; the degree should be obtained in the years 2013–2020;
- have scientific achievements in the field of ecology or biology, documented in original scientific papers in which the Candidate is the first or corresponding author;
- experience in taxonomic research and knowledge on systematics of marine crustaceans;
- advanced knowledge on statistical methods and ability to apply them in biological research;
- ability to work in team and independently perform experimental work (designing experiments, analyzing the results, etc.)
- very good communication in English (spoken and written).

Description of the tasks

Scientific work at the implementation of the project: BIODiversity PAtternS and Scale: the case of peracarid Crustacea from south-eastern Australia (BIOPASS)

- identification of the Peracarids crustaceans (cooperation with the project coordinator and PhD students) with different tools of integrative taxonomy;
- description of new taxa (species / genus) selected for science; constructing of a taxonomic key;
- aggregation of biological and environmental data for SE Australia;
- implementation of basic ecological analyzes.

NCN call for proposals type: OPUS - NZ

Deadline for submitting offers: November 30, 2020, 00:00

The form of submitting offers: email: magdalena.blazewicz@biol.uni.lodz.pl

The conditions of employment:

- A candidate needs to meet the conditions specified in Art. 113 of the Act of July 20, 2018, Law on Higher Education and Science (Journal of Laws of 2018, item 1668, as amended);
- A candidate should obtain a doctoral degree not earlier than 7 years before the year of employment in the project;
- A candidate employed a post-doc position in the project may not receive any other remuneration from the funds awarded under NCN calls or be employed under another employment contract.

Additional information:

The submitted application should include:

- curriculum vitae,
- list of publications,
- a copy of the diploma of obtaining a doctoral degree